

CONTENTS

Editorial

- 97 The serodiagnosis of leprosy. P. G. SMITH

Original Articles

- 101 Competency of human-derived Mycobacterium leprae to use palmitic acid in the synthesis of phenolic glycolipid-I and phthiocerol dimycocerosate and to release CO₂ in axenic culture. E. J. SHANNON, E. B. HARRIS, H. S. HAILE-MARIAM, M. GUEBRE-XAVIER and D. FROMMEL
- 108 Activity of sparfloxacin against Mycobacterium leprae inoculated into footpads of nude mice. M. GIDOH and S. TSUTSUMI
- 117 Evaluation of Mycobacterium leprae particle agglutination test, using eluates of filter paper blood spots. B. SEKAR and D. ANANDAN
- 125 Double-blind evaluation of BACTEC and Buddemeyer-type radiorespirometric assays for in vitro screening of antileprosy agents. S. G. FRANZBLAU, A. N. BISWAS, P. JENNER and M. J. COLSTON
- 134 Clinical observations on leprosy patients with HIV1-infection in Zambia. ANNA E. M. VREEBURG
- 141 Diagnostic exploration of enlarged peripheral nerves in suspected cases of leprosy. An analysis of 55 cases. DONG LIWEN, LI FUTIAN, GU ZHANGJING, ZHANG JIALIN, CHEN JIAKUN, GU DAXIN, WANG ZAIMING and PENG JINHU
- 145 An application of the LePSA methodology for health education in leprosy. J. L. LENNON and D. W. COOMBS
- 151 Attitudes towards leprosy in the outpatient population of dermatology clinics in Trinidad. M. SUITE and C. GITTENS
- 157 Attitudes of rural people in central Ethiopia towards leprosy and a brief comparison with observations on epilepsy. R. TEKLE-HAIMANOT, L. FORSGREN, A. GEBRE-MARIAM, M. ABEBE, G. HOLMGREN, J. HEIJBEL and J. EKSTEDT
- 169 Appraisal of the knowledge and attitude of Nigerian nurses toward leprosy. N. AWOFESO

Special Article

- 173 Relationship problems between doctors and paramedical professionals working in leprosy with reference to a possible solution. R. PREMKUMAR and S. DAVE

Letters to the Editor

- 183 A suggested new method to measure patch area in paucibacillary leprosy. R. M. CHATURVEDI and S. KARIKEYAN
- 184 Comment: Reversal reactions in leprosy and their management. FIONA MCCUSKER and P. A. M. SCHREUDER
- 184 Reply: PATRICIA ROSE and M. F. R. WATERS
- 185 Treatment of smear negative MB patients who had received previous dapsone monotherapy. K. JESUDASAN
- 185 '3 Ps' in school surveys—Priming, privacy and a personalized approach. S. KARTIKEYAN and R. M. CHATURVEDI

187 Teaching Materials and Services

30 techniques for the care of leprosy patients; TLMI, London • The Heiser Program now includes tuberculosis • Bitter facts about drugs: PACE, Pakistan • Eye-care programmes in developing countries • International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness, Newsletter • American Association for the Advancement of Science • Voluntary Health Association of India (VHAI) • Intermediate Technology, UK, Newsletter

190 News and Notes

'Can leprosy be eradicated from India?' • TDR and IDRC prize for a paper on 'Women and tropical diseases' • Medical students survey eye damage in Calcutta • Second Conference on AIDS in Asia and the Pacific • International Colloquium on Integration of traditional and modern methods in the control of leprosy and the study of mycobacterial taxonomy, Antwerp, Belgium, 16-19 December 1992